CONVENTION HALL, NEW OR-LEANS, Oct. 18. —Demands for a roll call so that the world may know how the American Legion stands on the bonus question followed their reading on a resolution declaring that the Legion will continue to fight for this legislation until it is enacted into law. A division was called for by Commander Mac Nider who after putting the question declared it adopted unanimously. One delegate who voted no by mistake at first, quickly changed when those around him began yelling: "Who is he?"

(By the Associated Press)
CONVENTION HALL, NEW OR-LEANS, Oct. 18. —Following a brisk business session the American Legion was on parade this afternoon. More than 30,000 men "fell in," the brisk autumn air lending zest to the event.

Through miles of narrow stone paved streets down the broad concord of Canal street, winding in and out along the trouble course of "Vieux Carre" (old town) established by the Spanish and French founders of New Orleans, the veterans of 1918 marched.

Fluttering bravely in the autumn air, borne by the men who carried them to victory four years ago, went the national colors, flanked by the silkens colors of legion posts from every state in the union and from Alaska, Hawaii, Panama Canal zone, Porto Rica, Philippines, Great Britain, Africa and China.

Today's business session was slow in getting under way as has been the case ever since the convention opened.

Ousley Represents South

The announcement by Alvin M.
Ousley, of Dallas, that he would accept the nomination for the national commandship if it were offered him, appeared to be crystallizing the sentiment of the south.
Mr. Ousley, a former attorney general of Texas, chairman for two years of the Americanization committee of the legion, brought in a report this week, as spokesman for the commission, in which it was declared that a deliberate effort was being made to inject a pro-German account of the world was into the school text books in many parts of America.

The report also contained a declaration in favor of total exclusion of immigrants from the United States, and asserted again the stand of the legion in opposition to the recognition by this government of soviet Russia.

Landis Addresses Vets

CONVENTION HALL, NEW OR-LEANS, Oct. 18. —Judge K. M.
Landis, supreme commissioner of organized baseball, and former federal judge, addressed the former service men today and told them that the bonus legislation must be passed as a matter of justice. The legislation proposed by the Legion was improperly called a bonus when in reality it is not a bonus.

This speech was the concluding feature of the morning program, but some business was transacted on the convention floor.

Death Penalty for Dallas County Man Affirmed by Court

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 18. —The death penalty, given C. E. Gaines by a jury in Dallas county district court for the killing of George Street, postoffice employee at Dallas, was affirmed by the criminal court of appeals today. Street was killed at a branch office while it was being robbed on January 14, 1921. Gaines was charged with robbery by federal authorities after his arrest in Indiana, but was turned over to the state for trial for murder.

The defendant claimed this action was not within the law since he was brought back to Texas by federal officials.

GEORGE ELECTED TO WATSON'S JOB

Former Georgia Justice Carries Followers of Late Senator.

(By the Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18. —Walter F. George, former justice of the state supreme court, with a total of 304 county unit votes, was overwhelmingly nominated as successor to the late United States Senator Thomas Watson in yesterday's special democratic primary, according to complete unofficial returns compiled by the Atlanta Constitution today.

The victory of George marks the second defeat of Governor Hardwick within as many months and according to political observers shows that the Watson block of voters estimated at 50,000 at full force, remained intact and voted almost solidly for the former court justice.

Definite reports of the popular vote in 71 counties gave George 27,914. Hardwick 21,926. Wright 7,063 and Cooper 400. It was stated that the vote in almost every section of the state caused a very light vote to be cast. The state democratic convention meets in Macon October 28 to confirm the results of yesterday's primary. The convention's nominations are considered equivalent to election in the general election November 7.

R. H. WILSON WILL ADDRESS VOTERS OF ADA TOMORROW

R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of instruction, is scheduled to address the voters of Ada Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the interest of the Democratic ticket. The address will be delivered at the Mc Swain theatre and the ladies are especially invited to attend.

Mr. Wilson was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination, but he is aiding by the result and loyally supporting his victorious opponent.

ENGINE PILOT IS KILLED IN WRECK

Pioneer Rock Island Man
Dies Beneath Machine
Near McAlester.

(By the Associated Press)
McALESTER, Oct. 18. —William Tipton Shields, 59, engineer in the employment of the Rock Island railroad since its entry into eastern Oklahoma, was pinned under his engine and killed at three o'clock Tuesday when it went through a trestle near the Dawley strip pit south of Alderson.

The engine fell 20 feet and engineer Shields' body could not be removed until seven o'clock in the evening owing to the mass of wreckage that it was necessary to remove. All other members of the train crew including the fireman abandoned the train as the trestle was approached and walked across it, fearing its safety with the load being pulled. Shields attempted to pull his engine over.

He was a widower and father of two sons, one of whom is yardmaster at Hallettsville and the other an office employee of the Rock Island company.

OIL NEWS

S. B. Logan, well known oil operator of Drumright, was in Ada today looking over the local situation.
He is a personal friend of Tom D.
McKeown, and Mr. McKeown is urging him to get in and help develop this field. He is seriously thinking of coming in within a short time.

O. E. Lancaster announces that he will spud in the well on the P.
A. Norris land just east of the city Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
The location is near the city lake, and those wanting to see the work will have no difficulty in locating the rig.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IS OPEN

All Electors of City Must Re-Register, Sims Says;
Here are Places.

Re-registration of city voters to conform to new precincts outlined by the county election board began today with but a light run upon precinct registrars when books were opened. All city voters must register if they expect to vote in the November election.

Registration in precincts of the county outside of Ada will be restricted to those who have recently become of age or who have moved to their present precinct since the last election.

Registration books will be open ten days.

The following precinct registrars and places to register were outlined early today by F. C. Sims, county registrar:

Ward 1, Precinct 1, E. S. Haraway, registrar; Howard and Zorn building on South Broadway.

Ward 1, Precinct 2—H. J. Hud-leston, registrar; Oklahoma State bank.

Ward 1, Precinct 3—T. O. Dandridge, registrar; Shaw building, East Main.

Ward 2, Precinct 1—Slade Norman, registrar; at Sterling Motor store, West Twelfth street.

Ward 2, Precinct 2—C. F. Green, registrar; in Rollow building, West Main.

lins, registrar; at Wilson Lumber company, North Broadway.

stant avenue.

CEMENT MILL TO BUILD RAILROAD TO ROCK QUARRY

Company Officials Give Virtual Approval to New Project.

SECURE RIGHT-OF-WAY

Supply of Raw Materials Will be Assured by Improvement.

Charles and Claude K. Bettcher of Denver, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Oklahoma Portland Cement Co. of Ada, were here the first of the week looking after interests of the Ada concern.

While here they practically authorized M. O. Matthews, manager, to build a railroad line from the plant to the quarries at Lawrence.
Mr. Matthews informed a representative of the News today that he expects to put surveyors in the field next week and push the project to completion at as early a date as possible.

The company has long contemplated this enterprise and in anticipation of the time when it would be put through, secured a right of way, hence there will be no delay from that source. It has not been decided whether steam or electric power will be used. Mr. Matthews said, but if it should be the latter the company will soon be in a position to supply its own power.

The new power plant being erected at the mill is nearing completion and the high tension line to Lawrence is also nearly finished.

Guarantees Supply.

Mr. Matthews stated that the building of the line is necessary in order to get enough raw material from the quarries at Lawrence to the plant here in town.

"For the last six months," he said this morning, "we have been unable to get enough cars from the Frisco railway to haul the material, and the switching service has also been very unsatisfactory. In fact, it appears now that the only way we can keep our rapidly growing properties running full time is by constructing a road of our own and thereby making the plant independent of the poor service this road has seen fit to give."

The company has mapped out a big building program for the coming year. Part of this will be to provide storage room for 200,000 barrels of cement above the present capacity of 85,000. A new packing house will also be erected, the one in use now being inadequate for the needs of the plant. Also, more comfortable quarters will be provided for the bag department.

Mr. Matthews says the Ada plant has enjoyed a most excellent business during the past year. The mill has been running full capacity for some time and indications are that it will continue to do so indefinitely.

Four Ada High Girls Form Publicity Body to Advertise School

A representative from each class of Ada high school has been appointed to form a general publicity committee which will have as its chief purpose the reporting of high school news. Results of the efforts of these students will be noticed daily in the News, as reports are to be published.

Miss Kathryn Wilenzick of the senior class, Miss Geraldine Lee of the junior class, Miss Bessie Dell Meaders of the sophomore class and Miss Ora Faust of the freshman class were appointed on this committee. All class news and general news of the high school will be reported by them. Students of the institution have been requested to assist the committee in its efforts to keep the activities of the school before the public.

THREE JAIL BREAKERS TAKEN WITHOUT FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18. —The three jail breakers, Herbert Wilson, former evangelist, mail bandit and convicted murderer, Adam Bleszyk, convicted murderer, and Guido Spignola, convicted robber, were recaptured here today after 24 hours of liberty. They were taken without a struggle, at the home of an ex-convict.

Woman, on Trial, Says Babies Were Only Dummydolls

(By the Associated Press)
HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 18. — Accused by her middle aged husband of killing twin babies, which he said was born last December, Mrs. Hazel McNally, 24, faced trial here today, claiming the missing twins were nothing more than cleverly constructed dummydolls "mothered" by her until last April to satisfy her husband's ambitions to be known to the world as a father. Guided by lanterns and spurred on by McNally's charges, police dug until late last night in the yard of the home where the man lived until last April, searching for the "bodies" they had been told might be found there.

In support of her claims, Mrs.
McNally declared she told her husband after their marriage in April 1922, that she had undergone an operation at Greenbay, Wis., in 1919 which made it impossible for her to become a mother.

"I had explained to him the effects of the operation, but that failed to still his desire to be a parent," Mrs. McNally said. "On one occasion we inserted an advertisement offering to adopt a child but nothing came of it. Finally his mania to pose as a father became so acute that we contrived the hoax."

Mrs. McNally said she passed the hint to the neighbors as the time approached for the announcement of the birth, went so far as to engage a nurse and the purchase of two skillfully constructed dolls.

She said she kept the "twins" carefully hidden from the curious eyes of neighbors until last April, when she and her husband circulated the report that they had sent the children to Chicago.

Mrs. McNally said she and her husband moved to South Bend, Ind., in July and that she left him Sept. 22 because she "could not longer bear his underhanded tricks and his habit of doing hateful little things."

3 UNMASKED MEN ROB DEWEY BANK

$7,000 in Loot is Secured in Raid Early Today; Escape in Auto.

(By the Associated Press)

BARTLESVILLE, Oct. 18. — Three unmasked bandits held up and robbed the Security National bank in Dewey this morning of all the cash and currency in the bank, estimated at seven thousand dollars.
The robbery occurred shortly after 10 o'clock this morning when the three men entered the bank and ordered C. H. Kaylor, cashier, and Ernest Koester, a bookkeeper, to "stick 'em up". Taken by surprise, the robbery was effected while one of the bandits kept the men covered with his gun while the other two swept the silver and currency into cloth bags.

After locking Mr. Kaylor and Mr.
Koester in the bank vault, they escaped in a large touring car which was ready for them with its driver outside.

THREE ARRESTS DAILY FOR ADA COPS IS RECORD

Three arrests a day is the rate at which the Ada policemen are working this month. Up to Tuesday night they had arrested 52 men since October 1, and all had been found guilty or had pleaded guilty. Fines ranging from $4 to $19.75 were assessed and total more than $600.

Nineteen arrests were made during the past week-end, establishing a new high mark. Of this number six were for drunkenness, four for consorting, four for speeding, three for gambling, two for disturbing the peace and two for carrying concealed weapons. Fines assessed from $4 to $19.75. Five fines for $4 were given, twelve for $8.75; one for $9.75; two for 14.75 and one for $19.75.

Last week 15 arrests were made.
Twelve of this number yielded $8.75 fines and three fines were assessed for $14.75. Indications are that the police docket for this month will be the heaviest in the year up to this time, police said.

JORDAN SINKS IN COLD WATER FEW FEET FROM BOAT

Friends Watch Battle to Reach Safety, Unable to Extend Help.

COMPANION IS SAVED

Oliver Escapes Death by Seizing Capsized Boat
When it Appears.

While a party of his friends watched from the bank, powerless to render aid, Floyd Jordan, about 24 years of age, of this city was drowned in a lake near Byars where he had gone to hunt ducks.

Walter Oliver, who out on the lake with Jordan, saved himself by clinging to the boat when it came to the surface after having been overturned when Jordan fired from a standing position in it.

Jordan's body was dredged from the bottom of the lake by a party of local citizens two hours after he was drowned.

In company with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardin, Walter Oliver, and others, Floyd Jordan and wife left Ada at 4 a. m. Wednesday for a duck hunt near Byars. Shortly after daylight, Jordan and Oliver put out on the lake, three-fourths of a mile west of Byars, in a rowboat. Sighting the game, Jordan rose to his feet and fired. Impact of the recoil is believed to have caused him to become over-balanced and fall overboard.
The boat was overturned.

Heeds Too Late.

When Jordan came up he struck out for the shore. Oliver swam around where the boat had disappeared and pleaded with his companion to wait for the boat. Jordan, however, was apparently unable to understand and continued his course. Friends from the bank also implored him to turn back. Suddenly the force of their advice seemed to dawn upon him and the struggling man reversed his course in the water. When within 12 feet of the boat he became exhausted and sank.

A detailed story of the tragedy was told by Hardin this afternoon upon his return to Ada.

Jordan's body was brought back to his home here today but funeral arrangements had been completed this afternoon. They probably will be announced tomorrow.

Jordan was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jordan and was reared in Ada. Recently he has been working in the Texas oil fields with his father but a month ago returned home. His father is in Los Angeles but will come from the funeral.

Floyd Jordan is survived by his wife, mother, father, two sisters and three brothers, most of whom live in Ada. He received his education here and was popular among a wide circle of friends.

East Central Bigger Than 142 Schools of Kind Through Nation

East Central Teachers College is larger than 142 other state teachers colleges in the United States, according to reports on attendance last year from the presidents of the 167 institutions of that nature in this country. President Linscheid states that the reports show that the local institution reported the same as one other college and that only 34 have a larger attendance.
He also states that to his knowledge only one teachers college established at the same time or later as East Central has equaled or beaten the growth of the Ada school. That school is Kent, Ohio, established in 1910, about two years later than East Central, and which reported a slightly larger enrollment for last year.

SENIORS CHOOSE PLACE IN FRONT OF ASSEMBLY

Seniors of the local college have decided that their place in assembly is well toward the front and have chosen a section of seats near the stage. The members of the class will sit together in assembly.
The Juniors will sit directly behind the Seniors, while the other classes have taken no such action as to seating.

"REPAYING" THE FOREIGN DEBT

The British government has made its first payment of interest on its debt to the United States. It has sent checks for $50,000,000 brings its total of paid interest and repayments to $191,181,000. The total amount owed by Great Britain is $4,500,000,000. The total foreign debt is $11,000,000,000. It is owed by Great Britain, Belgium, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, Italy, Liberia, Rumania, Russia and Serbia. Of these debtors, those who have made repayments are Belgium, Cuba, France, Great Britain, Rumania and Serbia. They have repaid $211,925,397, excluding interest payments.

There was a total cash advance by the United States of $9,598,236,575 to foreign governments. This was equivalent to about $8,000,000 a day that flowed from the American treasury to foreign powers in 1917, 1918, and 1919.

Including the recent payment of Great Britain, interest payments of about $500,000,000 have been made, but the total interest accrued and remaining unpaid is approximately $1,350,000,000. American taxpayers have had to bear that added burden to meet the interest on Liberty bonds, sold to raise the loan funds, which interest could not be defaulted.

In addition to the cash advances to the foreign governments, they owe the United States about $715,000,000 on account of credit sales of surplus war material and American relief supplies.

While it is true that the per capita tax of the debtor nations is much greater than that of the United States, it is also true that all of the leading powers are spending more for military purposes than they were before the war. The latter fact is one reason why the American public as a whole will fail to see the feasibility of debt cancellation, which is advocated so strongly in certain circles.—Kansas City Journal.

Great Britain has paid an installment of $50,000,000 on her war debt to the United States. It will probably be sometime before the other European countries follow this commendable example, but they will doubtless do something about it after awhile. The civilized world is staggering under the debts created by the war, and the chances are that a lot of these debts will have to be shaved down considerably before the debtor nation can get out, but they have been in bad fixes before and finally pulled through, so they will probably make it once more. In these days it costs something to fight and it had been predicted that this fact would force a speedy peace, but somehow it did not. However, if the allies had not gone their limit to whip the Germans they would today be groaning under a bondage to the kaiser and his people in comparison with which the present burdens are light indeed.

The man who slinks through the world as is apologizing to humanity for the fact that he must occupy a few square feet of this planet's surface for a brief period, gets little sympathy from his fellows. Somehow the world feels a contempt for the man who is afraid of life and who seeks to shirk every responsibility. In pursuing such a course a man simply makes matters worse and makes his burden of life still greater. The man who shows fear is the target of everybody and he fares worse than the fellow who gives blow for blow, for people are inclined to pass up the man who is known to be ready to give as good as he receives. Life at its best is a battle and it is just a question whether one receives his wounds in front while doing his best or in the rear while trying to escape from the struggle.

The former kaiser's memoirs disclose another shocking discovery. It is said that the Masonic fraternity in his own and other countries was largely responsible for the loss of his throne. He is of the opinion that all secret orders should be thoroughly investigated at once before they do a lot more devilment. If the one-time war lord keeps up his present rate of discoveries and line of explanations he will surely convince the world one of these days that of all men on earth he has been the most sinned against. Perhaps he may tell us who struck Billie Patterson or how old Ann is.

Some towns never get anywhere because the people never get beyond the stage of day dreams. Ada is a fair example of a town that puts its dreams into concrete form. Ada has had many dreams since her infant days and has succeeded in making most of them realities.

You know this Oklahoma weather has a way of adjusting itself to a man's feelings, provided his feelings agree with the weather.

S. L. Roberson of Ahloso says that English sparrows will eat boll weevils. Is it possible that these heretofore considered pests will prove to be our best friends?

The Virgin Was Right
(Oklahoma News)

There is an old tradition to the effect that General Santa Anna, at the battle of Buena Vista, cursed America and all Americans and that, that night on the battle field, the Virgin came and told him that the U. S. generally, and particularly Texas, would be punished for the "unjust war" on his people.

Well, we sure have been. The battle of Buena Vista took place in '46. Just 46 years later the first boll-weevil crossed the Rio Grande at Brownsville and landed on the first Texas cotton boll.

For the past four years the boll-weevil has inflicted damage to American cotton growers averaging $300,000,000 per annum, according to the latest bulletin issued by the department of agriculture.

The loss by this most devilish of all insects, during the last four years alone, is greater than the cost of all the wars of this country, in money and material, from the discovery of Columbus down to '61.

This year's loss in Oklahoma alone amounts to $10 for every man, woman and child in the state.

If we count the total loss since the "invasion of Brownsville" we have an estimated damage in excess of $3,000,000,000! a truly appalling figure.

In newly invaded regions of the cotton belt the loss has frequently exceeded one-half of the crop.

An unusually cold winter reduces the danger and a mild winter increases it. Also a dry spring hits the weevil and a wet spring furnishes just the "culture" he likes best.

But no matter what the experts say, no effective remedy for this terrible pest has yet been found. And so, superstitious Mexicans say, "The Gringe" is being punished for his unjust attack on the Mexican Republic.

About the World's Gold Supply
(Wichita Times)

Somebody has figured out that eighteen billion dollars worth of gold has been produced in the world since Columbus discovered America.

Only about eight million dollars worth exists as money or is stored in the treasuries of nations or in the United States. The remaining ten billion produced since Columbus' time has either been converted into jewelry and art or has been lost.

The belief was once quite general that a store of gold by any nation meant great prosperity for that nation. Whether we understand anything about it or not, the information that the United States has nearly half of the world's available supply of gold seems very satisfying. But it hasn't brought any particular prosperity. In fact our great store of gold has become embarrassing. It is acting as a hindrance to the free exchange of goods with other nations and as a damper to trade. It is serving further to isolate us and to prevent our selling our products to other peoples.

The worst of it is that there is small prospect for relief. Instead of diminishing, our stock of gold is getting larger and that of other countries growing smaller. If the present situation keeps up, we may some day have all the gold in the world. Then our situation would be desperate indeed.

The Craze for Speed
(Kansas City Journal)

An army airplane the other day flew at the terrific speed of over 220 miles an hour. This was faster than any human being ever had traveled. A great commotion is being made about it in scientific circles. Admittedly, it was an "accomplishment." But, after all, are people being made any happier or the world a better place to live in, by American ability to travel at such dizzy speed?

Until the automobile was invented, people took life as it came—calmly, happily, without any feverish rush. The automobile ushered in a craze for speed.

Everything followed the auto's lead and speeded up. Fast trains, of two kinds, arrived. Efficiency experts began adjusting the processes of life to gasoline-engine pace. The shipping clerk was shown how to drive more nails per minute, the hogcarrier how to get more bricks on his hod.

People began to gulp their meals where eating had once been a delightful ceremony, enjoyable, lingering on each morsel of luscious food. Slow, dragging sentimental ballads gave way to swift-moving jazz music. Dancing became faster. Life all around was geared to higher speed. And, with the process, came a nervous tension, result or noise and rush.

The speed mania, of course, has been less noticeable on farms and in small towns than in the big cities. But they, too, are catching the fever. The farmer wants his news by radio, can't wait until the rural postman flashes by in his over-heated flivver.

Even the once plodding fisherman, who formerly purred with contentment as he rowed to his favorite bass pool, now is impatient until he gets a motor to hustle his boat, also fast-multiplying reels.

The auto couldn't keep up with the public appetite for speed, so the airplane is being developed. Some experts assert that airplanes will soon make 1,000 miles an hour. It sounds probable.

But is this frantic rush really making life more happy? What are we all so afraid of that we are hurrying to get past it? It's a mad rush, by "bundles of nerves" with no destination.

In the long run, is it any more important than if all rabbits learned how to leap twice as far and take two leaps where only one was leaped before? If any of the lower animals suddenly speeded up and began rushing about, as human beings have in the last two decades, scientists would cry, "Wave of insanity—social neuroasthenia."

Not satisfied, they're carting us away in auto-hearses. Soon they'll learn they can get us buried quicker by airplane.

It's "the pace that kills."

PRESENT FARM METHODS MADE EGYPT DECLINE

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Present day methods of dealing with the farmer point in the same direction as those which caused the decay of Egypt's early agricultural industry. J. B. Bartholomew of Peroria, Ill., warned today in his address before the annual convention here of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers.

The ancient Egyptians had established agriculture on a profitable basis and reduced it to a science almost 3,000 years ago, he said, and then allowed their work to lapse because it was made unprofitable. They learned the different character of soils that could best be used to raise the various kinds of crops," Mr. Bartholomew said. "They employed a system of crop rotation to maintain the fertility of the soil and it was said they used agricultural implements and made improvements on them from time to time.

"They established a system of drainage and irrigation. They prospered until the so-called barbarian period when those who were considered superior or above them, saw fit to take from their stores all they had, leaving the farmer only enough for bare necessities.

"We are now treating the farmer a little more gentlemanly and a little more businesslike than he was treated during the barbarian days but Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture lately sounded the warning and outlined what is likely to happen should the American farmer become indifferent and cease to produce under the present system.

"The big problem involved must be solved along two lines and while one is transportation, the big thing is a financial plan to enable the foreign countries where modern farm implements and methods are needed to obtain them from the United States and other countries where they may be procured."

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did. "I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

Mrs. Duncan then spoke of Miss Bennett's great spirituality, her gift of leadership, and of her home going, likening it to the Port at the Gate of Eden, who exclaimed:

"Go, wing thy flight from star to star,

From world of luminous world, as far

As the Universe spreads her flaming wall,

Take all the pleasures of all the spheres

And multiply each through endless years

One moment of Heaven is worth them all."

The speaker said that Miss Bennett's "moments in Heaven" has just begun, and urged the women to profit by her life and example of her great work.

Mrs. Ball in a clear, sweet voice impressively sang, "I've done my Work," after which was the benediction.

And whereas the First Baptist church of Ada, Oklahoma has lost a loyal and consecrated member, who desired above all else the extension of Christ's kingdom in this world of sin; a gentle loving "mother in Israel";

Therefore be it resolved: First that we bow humble submission to the divine will of our Heavenly Father who doeth all things best for his children;

Resolved, that we as members of the First Baptist church of Ada will ever cherish her memory and imitate her godly example;

Resolved that we extend our heart felt sympathy to the sorrowing ones left behind, ever remembering them and urging them to take comfort in the fact that their great loss is heaven's gain;

Resolved further that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved loved ones, a copy be spread upon the minutes of our church, a copy sent to the Ada Evening News and the Ada Baptist for publication.

1400 TONS OF FOOD SENT TO SMYRNA REFUGEES

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Fourteen hundred tons of food stuffs have been landed at Constantinople for distribution among the Smyrna refugees, according to a cable just received at Near East Relief head.

The foodstuffs include flour, canned milk, cocoa, and rice, and will be used to replenish winter stores for 100,000 orphans, which were depleted by the unusual demand for supplies at the time of the Smyrna disaster.

Some of these food stuffs will be distributed among the needy on the island of Mytilene where more than 150,000 refugees have been concentrated.

$500 ESTIMATED DAMAGE IN LOCAL FIRE TODAY

Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the home of Mrs. Pearl Jones on North Townsend avenue about three o'clock this morning and caused damage estimated by Fire Chief Somer Jones at between $500 and $600.

Some insurance was carried, he reports, but not enough to cover the value of the property. The roof of the building suffered the most damage. Occupants of the house said they were aroused by the blaze but were unable to say how the fire started.

MEET LIEUT. DORR

By CHARLOTTE TALLEY

"Miss Weston, meet Lieutenant Dorr." The speaker was the over-dressed Miss Smith. Pretty Miss Weston bowed, with her gracious smile, and again to Lieutenant Dorr, whom she had met before.

I enjoyed the comedy that I had anticipated when I saw Mrs. Weston from the house. She was a fine one on the subject of social and, hoping to better her own daughter's marriage, she smiled every time Marie made a mistake.

What do you suppose that girl said to Marie?" she questioned, throwing out her hands in a gesture. "You meet all kinds of people in a boarding house," "You do, indeed," I said to myself. But aloud, "I don't know this officer," adding mentally, "So a first lieutenant won't do for Marie!" I had heard that Mrs. Weston was looking for at least a captain.

As we flocked in to dinner, Lieutenant Dorr was presented to the rest of us, and to Mrs. Weston's displeasure, he had been placed next to Marie.

Marie was not the type I admired. I decided: the black lashes that drooped so modestly over Marie's blue eyes exasperated; they looked artificial to me. I was beginning to suspect myself of prejudice when, suddenly, my eyes encountered the brown ones of Lieutenant Dorr, and, confused, I turned away to converse with Lieutenant James on my right.

He and Dorr were "baching" it while Dorr's family were away, he informed me, and then he launched upon a eulogy of Lieutenant Dorr. He was as good as his name would have indicated if it had been written in French. Why, Dorr, he said, had sacrificed the large income from his business when he enlisted as soon as war was declared. So Lieutenant Dorr was one of the wealthy and socially prominent Dorr's of El Paso! And Mrs. Weston was trying to signal Marie not to be so cordial to him!

For a reason, which I discovered later, this managing matron had not been averse to having her daughter receive the attentions of blonde, loquacious Lieutenant James. But she had made a mistake about his status, too, which came to her as a crushing blow when she heard of it. It was Jack who told me about it, in his slangy fashion, as I labored over a pile of his gaudy socks in my bedroom the following day.

"Gee, Sue, you oughta heard that ole hen hawl Marie out when she learned that the one gift bar on Lieutenant James' shoulder was insignia of a second lieutenant instead of a captain, as she had supposed."

Every evening after this disappointing discovery Mrs. Weston drew her daughter's arm within her own after dinner and took her for a walk. It was a week later when she found out her mistake concerning Lieutenant Dorr. Miss Smith had just told her about his prominence when he, in a long, black, glossy car, drew up to the door, wearing two silver bars on his shoulder instead of one, as formerly. Mrs. Weston made no mistake about insignia now, and she knew that he had been promoted to a captain.

She was so attentive to him at dinner that I could see that Marie was embarrassed. I avoided the gallery afterward in sheer disgust with my sex, slipping away to the piano in the parlor, where I began softly to play a Chopin nocturne. I was feeling more pain than pleasure from my performance, because the piano was out of tune, when I turned to face Lieutenant Dorr, hat in hand, asking Jack and me to go to drive. I accepted for us both, I fear with alacrity. My heart beat to suffocation.

We drove to Ysleta, a picturesque Mexican village some miles from El Paso, but to me it seemed more like driving to Paradise. I was in much too happy a mood on our return to condemn Mrs. Weston, whom we found awaiting us, sitting in the couch hammock with her feet scarcely touching the floor. She waddled forward.

"Oh, Captain Dorr, I failed to congratulate you on your promotion. Allow me!" And she thrust forth a pudgy hand.

The newly-made captain took it and murmured his thanks, but as Mrs. Weston turned to me with more effusions he met the eyes of Lieutenant James with an intentional and deliberate wink of one brown eye.

"Oh, boy!" exclaimed Jack, later. "Did you see Captain Dorr wink? Say, I thought you said it was common to wink, Sue Langdon."

"Well, I suppose it depends on the way it's done," I back-watered. "If you can wink like Captain Dorr," I conceded, "on occasion, you may."

"It's a pity Mrs. Weston spoils her daughter's pleasure so," I said insincerely, because for the first time in my life I was jealous. "Marie has too much pride to make any advances to an admirer her mother has once snubbed."

Captain Dorr picked up his guitar and, with laughing eyes on mine, he sang, "You Mean Somebody, Darling, but You Don't Mean Me."

I received a presentiment then of what "meeting Lieutenant Dorr" was to bring me. Bliss unspeakable in becoming the first lady of his heart, and then anguish in parting, for he went to face the enemy, leaving me only dew-drops for memories—those of grief in my eyes, but one of hope glistening on my finger.

Cod-liver was first used as a remedy for debility caused by lung trouble in 1832.

SEPTEMBER WAS DRY MONTH SAYS WEATHER BUREAU

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18.—There have only been four drier and four hotter Septembers in Oklahoma in the last thirty-one years than the month just past, according to the U. S. Weather bureau.

The average precipitation for the state for the month was 1.41 inches, which is 1.57 inches below the September normal, less than half, according to the report.

The highest mean temperature for the month was recorded as 80 degrees at Hennessey in Kingfisher county. Hurley, Texas county, had the lowest mean temperature, 69.3 degrees. The highest recorded temperature was 109 degrees at Okene, Blaine county, on the 8th. The lowest was 49 degrees at Beaver, Beaver county, on the 29th.

The report stated that every reporting station in the state, with four exceptions, reported maximum temperatures of 100 degrees or higher. The four exceptions were Broken Arrow, Broken Bow, Hurley and Kenton.

The four Septembers warmer than the month just past were recorded in 1895, 1910, 1911 and 1921. The mean temperature for the month for the state was 76.4, which was 2.6 degrees above normal.

The four drier Septembers were recorded in 1895, 1909, 1910, 1919. Of these 1910 was the driest, with only .98 of an inch of rain.

The greatest total of rainfall for the month was at Buffalo, Harper county, where it was 4.20 inches. The least was .04 of an inch at Sulphur, Murray county. The greatest in 24 hours was 3.28 inches at Cleveland, Pawnee county, on the 10th. The average number of days with .01 of an inch or more of precipitation was 3; average number of clear days, 22; partly cloudy 6; cloudy, 2.

There have been but three years with less rainfall than for the period between June 1 to Sept. 30, inclusive, according to the report. These years were 1894, with 7.51 inches, 1901 with 7 inches and 1909 with 7.99 inches. The average precipitation for the state for that period this year was 8.41 inches.

CAST OFF HURLER FOOLS YANK BATTERS BUT SLIPS ON BASES

Jack Scott being run down between third and home in third game.

Although the run wasn't needed to give the Giants a victory in the third game of the world's series, Jack Scott, the cast-off hurler who whitewashed the Yankees, sure wanted to add a run to the total. He singled in the third, and moved to third when Ward booted Bancroft's grounder. He was blocked off home a moment later on Groh's tap to Hoyt. Scott kept the Yankee infield busy, however, until Bancroft reached third and Groh second.

WAITED TILL THE COWS CAME HOME

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gas in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist, our family doctor sent me to Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated. Luckily I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy then, and although it is now three years since I took a course of it, I have never had a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of money refunded. Gwin and Mays and druggist everywhere. (Adv.)

Planting a Flower Garden.

Now is the time to plan for the flower gardens if you are contemplating making one for next year or for the years to come.

The drouth of this summer and early fall makes me feel more keenly the wisdom of planning for more of the blooming shrubs. Many of them bloom early in the spring or before the dry hot days and by that time they have grown a heavy foliage giving the yard a cool shady appearance.

There are so many shrubs that will grow from cuttings, and all such shrubs should be pruned this month or next. Spirea, Lilac, Althea, Crepe Myrtle and many others that I can't name now. All roses will grow from cuttings and any friend or neighbor will gladly give them to you. If the cutting is placed in the soil correctly and cared for through the winter, it will be but a short while until you will have a rose garden of your own of choice selections.

I will gladly give you any information you may need for your flower yard—if I don't know it myself I'll find some one who does and pass it on to you. Let's make the rural homes of Pontotoc county each a "beauty spot."

MRS. BYRON NORRELL.

How Butter is Rated.

Several million dollars annually are lost to producers and manufacturers because of imperfect conditions and methods in the production, manufacture, and marketing of dairy products. During 1920 the marginal differences in the prices of high and low quality butter amounted at times to as much as 15 cent between 87 score and 92 score. Lack of proper attention or care in the creamery in grading the cream, or in churning, working, salting, or packing the butter are mainly responsible for this condition. Flavor, body, color, salt, and package influence price. These factors are given specific ratings by local and federal butter inspectors, and receivers, in determining the final score of the product, and the ratings are governed by the absence or presence of certain defects.

There has never before been a time in the history of American butter making when it paid so well to produce high quality butter as during recent years. But to secure an active demand and the largest net return not only high quality and uniformity of the product are necessary, but a knowledge of market requirements and good marketing methods are required.

Circular 2366, entitled "Defects in the Quality of Butter," has been prepared so that producers and manufacturers may know precisely how butter is rated for quality in the markets, and how the defects which lower prices may be obviated. Copies of the circular can be obtained free upon request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Farmers' Short Course.

Stillwater, Okla.—The annual winter short course in general agriculture, offered by the School of Agriculture at Oklahoma A. and M. College, will open November 27, according to announcement of M. A. Beeson, dean of the School of Agriculture. The instruction this year will be divided into two sections, one composed of six two weeks courses, the other composed of three four weeks courses. Each course will be complete in itself, but all will be co-ordinated so that farmers may take work extending over periods of two weeks, four weeks or twelve weeks and get well rounded instruction no matter what length of time they may be able to remain.

REVENUE MEN FIND BOOTLEGGERS' CAMP "OVER THE BORDER"

But the "Offenders" Proved to Be Only Picture Players at Work.

A bet that the press-agent overlooked—but Fate was kind!

Even Fate's taking a hand did not, however, prevent the press-agent's being accused when a story emanated from Truckee, Cal., to the effect that San Francisco revenue officers ran down a "moonshiner's ring" and found the "offenders" to be only members of the Penryn Stanlows Paramount company on location in the snow country for scenes of "Over the Border," which, with Betty Compson and Tom Moore featured, will open at the McSwain theatre today.

They followed hot-foot and found the suspicious characters in a typical moonshiner's cave with a huge still in full operation. Just as the handcuffs were about to be clapped upon the wrists of the red-handed captives, Producer Stanlows arrived with Miss Compson and Mr. Moore and explained that the apparent miscreants were perfectly good citizens of Truckee whom he had hired to work as bootleggers in his picture.

High School News

Report cards containing grades for the first six weeks period were handed out Tuesday. It is reported from the office that a very small percentage of failures were noticeable this period and that some of the students who started out making low grades improved in the closing weeks of this period.

Teachers in every department at the school were preparing this week to conclude work started in the first period and take up new courses of study in the various subjects. Some of the classes have made rapid progress it is reported.

The study hall, terror for students who do not know their lessons and for those who do not walk the straight and narrow path, is not being attended so much now as it was a few weeks ago. A dozen or so occupants each evening generally constitute the attendances at the extra time sessions penalizing students for lax school work.

The radio bug has stung Ada high school. Already students have subscribed enough money to buy an expensive set which will be installed for the benefit of science students. It is also planned to have it improved sufficiently to make it possible to hold radio concerts for students.

Commanches, a new pep organization, is receiving its first attention at the high school. It is an organization among the boys with the original purpose of injecting pep into the student body during football and other athletic games. Reports from Coach Cox are that the football schedule has not yet been completed. Atoka, the high school that administered a 25 to 0 beating to Ada last year and which is already claiming to be the best in the state this year, is booked for the Thanksgiving game on Ada's field.

Several students are expected to accompany Coach Cox and his football squad to Purcell this week for the season's most important game. Purcell, Atoka and Ardmore will be the three hardest teams Ada will play, it is expected.

Ada Carriers Thanked

The R. F. D. News, the official paper of the rural carriers of the United States, in its account of the state meeting of Oklahoma a short time ago, mentions the fact that Ada was at the convention 100 per cent strong, the five carriers: Earl Dawson, C. E. Cales, W. H. Burdeshaw, Wm. Anderson and F. Rice being present. The convention adopted a vote of thanks to the Ada men for their loyalty to the organization.

SOUTH MAY ELECT CHIEF OF LEGION

Ousley and Murphey Seek to Succeed MacNider to Highest Post.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18.—Outstanding among the developments of today's session of the American Legion in its fourth annual convention, was the announcement of Alvin M. Ousley, Dallas, Tex., a vice-commander of the organization; that he is an active candidate for the national commander of the organization to succeed Hanford MacNider.

Among those familiar with "chances" it was generally believed this morning that the south would name the next national commander of the legion and that according to present indications the choice lay between Mr. Ousley and Matthew Murphey, an attorney of Birmingham, Ala.

RED CROSS WINNING IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Better, Stronger Citizenry Now Emerging Out of Work in United States.

The American Red Cross as an evangelist of better health has looked its problem square in the face. How it accepted the task revealed to it in the nation's physical condition as brought out during the World War, and conscientiously applied its activities to correction forms a vivid chapter in the forthcoming annual report. Historically and practically, nursing is a basic work for the Red Cross. In its public health nursing service, in instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition classes, first aid and life saving courses and health centers, the American Red Cross is applying effectually the lessons learned during the war and making for a healthier, stronger and better nourished citizenry.

The task of the Red Cross Public Health nurse in the 1,240 nursing services now operating throughout the country instructing their communities in health essentials and disease prevention is demonstrating the possibilities of human betterment and the great benefits of enlightenment.

During the last year 313 new public health nursing services were established by Red Cross Chapters, and several hundred services so convincingly proved their effectiveness that they were taken over by public authorities. In order to promote this work $30,000 was allotted to provide women to prepare themselves for public nursing. The home visits made by the 1,240 nurses aggregated nearly 1,500,000, visits to schools numbered 140,000, and in six months 1,250,000 school children were inspected by these nurses and where defects were found advised examination by physicians. In rural communities this service has made a very marked advance and has won thousands of converts to approved methods of disease prevention.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which fits the student in methods of proper care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes during the last year, enrolled 2,856 instructors, 93,448 students and issued 42,656 certificates.

On June 30, 1922, nutrition service embraced 1,199 classes, with a total of 27,523 children and 2,589 enrolled dietitians. Seventy-eight food selection classes graduated 733 who received Red Cross certificates. In general health activities Red Cross Chapters maintained 377 health centers, serving as many communities, provided 38,751 health lectures for large audiences everywhere, while clinics numbered over 10,000.

HARVEST OF CORN AND COTTON NOW NEAR A FINISH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18.—With ideal weather for outdoor work in attendance during the week ended today, cotton picking and harvest of corn and minor crops progressed rapidly, says the weekly weather and crop summary issued here today by the United States weather bureau. Eighty to 90 per cent of the cotton crop has been picked and the bulk of the corn crop is now cribbed, the report said.

Wheat is up or coming up in a fair good stand and generally in good condition in the eastern portion of the state. In the central and western sections the drought continues, further delaying wheat planting, according to the summary. Much of the wheat which has been sown in dry soil has not come up while that which did have sufficient moisture to germinate is deteriorating for lack of further rains.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Three hundred dollars reward has been offered by a proclamation of Gov. J. B. A. Robertson for the arrest and conviction of Isaac White, a negro, who, it is alleged, shot and killed another negro, Earnest Franklin, in Iowa township, Logan county, Sept. 25. The reward was offered on the recommendation of M. V. Dinwiddie, Logan county attorney.

IMPORTANT FARM PROBLEMS TO BE TALKED AT TULSA

TULSA, Oct. 18.—Questions of the most vital interest to the farmers and others in this section interested in agriculture will be discussed at the Southwestern Business Congress to be held in this city Wednesday and Thursday, October 18 and 19.

The agricultural delegates will have an opportunity to attend all of the general sessions of the congress where a score of nationally known experts will discuss all phases of the many problems facing this section at the present time. In the group meetings an opportunity will be given to work out solutions for specific problems and to form a co-operative spirit among those interested in solving them.

While no set program will be followed in the agricultural group meetings to be held Wednesday noon and Thursday noon, several questions have already been set down for discussion there. Ideas will be exchanged by the agricultural experts in attendance at the congress and the men actually tilling the soil and producing the wealth of the country.

Among the questions to be discussed in these group meetings are: "Is the practice of buying food and feed consistent with practical farming?" "How can the cost income be provided and should it be distributed throughout the year?" "Soil fertility and its relation to permanent profitable farming," and "The relation of efficient marketing of farm produce to permanent production."

Many other questions are expected to be discussed in these meetings in a round-table manner. Farmers from five states in this section will be in attendance.

If land were divided equally each Japanese would have one and one-half acres.
